THE really exceptional trans-Atlantic steamship service offered by the French Line embraces the following admirable points of merit:

¶ COVERED PIER TO COVERED PIER
French Line steamers debark their passengers for the Continent directly onto a covered pier at Havre, instead of transferring them from steamer to tender and from tender to pier.

¶ FRENCH CUISINE
A French chef is an artist, who takes in his product the same prideful care as a sculptor or painter. And all French Line chefs are French.

¶ PERSONAL SERVICE
The quintessence of courteous personal service is achieved in French maids and men-servants. They dignify service, and raise it to the Nth power.

¶ ATMOSPHERE
The intangible something known as atmosphere, upon which one cannot put a finger, but which is none the less real, is a powerful force which draws back to French Line steamers those who once cross on them.

¶ SPEED
The giant PARIS and FRANCE maintain a consistent service of less than six days to England—and the run to France consumes but a few hours additional.

¶ ONE CLASS CABIN FLEET
The French Line originated the One Class Cabin liner, and to-day has nine of these popular ships in its trans-Atlantic service, the flagship of which is the new oil-burner DE GRASSE.

¶ AUTOMOBILE—SHIPPING SERVICE
On the PARIS and DE GRASSE, automobiles, when accompanied by owners, are accepted, unboxed, for shipment to France—and at small expense.

¶ WORLD-WIDE SCOPE
The French Line's more than 100 passenger and cargo vessels sail the Seven Seas, and its North African Motor Tours—including a chain of twenty-six excellent hotels—have developed Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia into a favorite Winter vacationland for the world's elite

To the experienced traveler, these distinctive features spell thorough satisfaction. To the uninitiated, they assure it.
